

REPORTING COVID-19 FRAUD

U.S. Attorney's Office
Southern District of Indiana

The U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Indiana urges the public to remain vigilant for coronavirus fraud:

- Anyone selling fake testing kits, treatments, or cures for COVID-19
- Websites seeking donations for illegitimate or nonexistent COVID-19 charities
- Fraudulent phone calls from individuals posing as health insurers seeking personal information
- Phishing emails from entities posing as the CDC or WHO, which may contain malware
- Robocalls offering medical supplies with no intent to deliver
- Websites claiming to provide stimulus funds when consumers input their bank information
- Fraudulent medical billing for procedures related to COVID-19
- Threats to public officials advocating quarantines
- Hoarding or price-gouging of necessary supplies
- Threats to intentionally infect individuals with COVID-19

The Southern District of Indiana's Coronavirus Fraud Coordinator is Assistant U.S. Attorney Kyle Sawa.
